You have come to our Oceanside Mortuary family to remember someone you have known and loved. We are honored to be a part of their memory. Our family has spent over a century guiding our community down the dark path of uncertainty that loss and death delivers. And though death is what brings us together today, let us strive together to celebrate life. Our hope is to assist you in creating a service that is as rich and unique as the life we are here to celebrate.

The only rules and traditions we need to follow are the ones that are most meaningful to you, and we are here to work with you to bring your beliefs and heritage to this celebration. For some that means religious or spiritual beliefs. All faiths and creeds are welcome. If past traditions do not speak to you, let us help you find a new, more authentic way to honor the person who has passed. We encourage you to abandon any preconceptions about what a funeral or memorial should be. We are here to create your path, to discover your rituals, and we will be with you every step of the way.

Prior to drafting any contract for goods and services, the responsible party or the decedent's survivor who is handling the funeral arrangements is entitled to receive a copy of any preneed agreement in the possession of the funeral establishment that has been signed and paid for, in full or in part, by or on behalf of the decedent.

METHOD OF PAYMENT

Payment for goods, professional services, and cash advancements is expected at time of arrangements and required prior to the services rendered. For your convenience we accept cash, check, and all major credit cards are accepted with a 3% merchant fee. Assignments on life insurance policies will be taken on a case by case basis.

A Few of the Things that Make Us Your Best Choice –

- Family Owned & Operated. While many of the area funeral providers are now owned by large international corporations, we are still owned and operated by local individuals, offering the highest level of personal attention and caring service since our founding in 1908. We understand that our most valuable asset is our sterling reputation, and we will do everything in our power to maintain that position by exceeding our client families' expectations. We are accountable to you, not far- away stockholders.
- Professionalism. We recruit, train and retain only the best professionals in our industry. You are guaranteed that your services will be handled sensitively and correctly on that first, and only, opportunity. Our staff understands that your loss is unique, and will approach all arrangements and services as such. The rule is always: if you treat every family as though they're your own, you'll never go wrong.
- Cremation. While most other funeral establishments subcontract this important service to off- site, out of the area, multi-user industrial facilities, our crematory, which is open to your inspection at any time, assures you the peace of mind that your loved one will be handled only by our certified specialists and with the highest standards of care and accountability. By locally controlling the entire process, we can guarantee you that your cremation will be completed in less time by our firm than anyone else in the area.

The majority of families we serve tend to select funeral arrangements and services in keeping with the options listed. While you are free to arrange services on an itemized basis, the enclosed service plans will simplify the funeral arrangement process both financially and logistically. Additional items or services may be added, and additional charges may apply accordingly. Your funeral counselor welcomes your questions.

If you do not want embalming, you usually have the right to choose an arrangement that does not require you to pay for it, such as direct cremation or immediate burial.*

Death Care Planning

Death Care Planning. What a strange statement. Yet all of us will someday be faced with the realities of death care planning. Some of us will be planning for the death of a grandparent, a parent, an aunt, an uncle, a sibling, a spouse, a significant other, a dear friend, a child, or even ourselves. Many of us do not realize that we are the people others are going to depend upon to carry out their final wishes.

Select a funeral home that you feel comfortable with. The funeral home should provide you with answers to the questions you may have regarding any and all aspects of funeral service.

All funeral service providers must give you a copy of their General Price List for you to keep. This is a federal law that is strictly enforced by the Federal Trade Commission. Each funeral provider must also show you a copy of a casket price list, an outer burial container price list, and an urn price list before showing and explaining any merchandise. Ask for these lists from your funeral provider.

When inquiring about prices, ask about the “entire funeral service,” from the time the deceased is transferred from the place of death, all the way to the funeral luncheon. Any reputable funeral service provider should be able to give you the entire scope of the funeral service you wish to provide for your loved one. Many families are not receiving full service if they only request a General Price List. We encourage you to explore all of your options before finally choosing the services you request.

The staff of Wiefels encourages you to take time to review this information, and discuss it freely with your family, your clergy, and a qualified funeral director. The benefit of researching your options ensures that the personal wishes of your loved one will not be overlooked. Thank you for taking the time to carefully understand what options are now in front of you.
